

Maegan Crowley

Maegan Crowley owns and operates Iron Meagan Metalworks, where she produces custom metalwork and sculpture for residential, public and commercial settings. She established Iron Meagan Metalworks in 2006 and has built a successful business in Dolores with a client list that now spans the country.

Maegan has a Masters Degree in Fine Art and is also an educator in her field. She has taught metalsmithing/blacksmithing on a university level as well as numerous craft schools—Penland School of Craft and Haystack Mountain School of Craft to name a few. She is recognized in her field and asked to demonstrate and speak about her unique metalworking techniques to universities and guilds throughout the United States. Maegan has served on the Board of Directors for the Artist Blacksmiths of Northern America for 6 years.

She lives just outside of Dolores with her husband Gene and their daughter Stella. Together they enjoy participating in the variety of outdoor activities that are available in our area. Maegan values education, with a daughter in Dolores Elementary, she sees serving on the school board as an opportunity to give back to the community.